Anthony was really nice and I really enjoyed his style of teaching. He encouraged us to contribute and ask questions, and he was always willing to provide extra clarification when needed.
Literally the best tutor, makes online learning more tolerable :)
Anthony's tutorials were my favourite part of the course. They were very interactive and very interesting. I felt encouraged to contribute and that my contributions were valued. Anthony took student feedback seriously and always took it into account. Anthony's teaching style made it easy to focus for the whole two hours, they were fun and helped me to learn the content.
He was great with providing support to students! I've emailed him asking questions and he's always replied with great responses and I even had a zoom meeting with him for course content help and felt like I refined my knowledge.
Extremely approachable and facilitated a really fun and friendly online class environment (whiteboards were fantastic!) Always very clear explanations about course content and very transparent about what was course content and what was outside Really responsive to questions, always acknowledged everyone's contributions and allowed everyone to communicate however they were comfortable (direct message, group chat, mic) Always happy to explain any concerns, constantly ensured that everyone in the class was happy to move on and understood, reassured that he'd be there for any questions/concerns and always reachable via email
Thanks for another fantastic term Anthony! Really enjoyed the fun and interactive tutorials that were always a good way to end a Thursday afternoon :)
Great tutor, spend time to break down all of the content.
Made lessons fun
that he always attempted to encourage participation, even though he knew most people were typically unwilling, which I understand is very unmotivating, especially with the online class settings. The way he explained things made harder topics seem way easier than I thought and it was always fun turning up to the tutorials, even though the tutorial was in the morning. I really liked that he would leave a blank whiteboard on during the breaks we had in our tutorial, it was fun to sort of let loose for a couple of minutes and just draw.
He was very engaging and good at facilitating class involvement.
Anthony is a very engaging and tutor with great knowledge of the subject. He is very passionate and caring – willing to go above and beyond for his students.
Very encouraging and tried to get participations! Even in an online venue he really tried to interest students and be there for questions/help and I felt very supported by him. Very well spoken and great at explaining things
He was able to make lessons really entertaining despite the lack of response from the class. I appreciated him staying back after class and answering questions I had about some of the content, despite it being very niche and he made me feel valued as a student. He included many entertaining aspects that facilitated class discussion like opening up a white board for us to put down our thoughts, going through questions with us very thoroughly, encouraging us to use emojis to check in on us etc.
Did a great job in trying to engage students in online learning Helped me understand content and expanded upon concepts Very clear way of sharing info and has so much knowledge to share!
Very encouraging, taught content well and was happy to provide further explanations whenever necessary. Cool drawing sessions during the break. Provided a very warm environment which made me very comfortable to participate.
approachable & kept tuts fun & engaging!

Not really his fault but in some of the lectures there was SO MUCH content that it was a bit rushed and we didnt get through it all.
Sometimes he got a bit confused with what he was saying.
None!
